INVITATION TO (Virtual) PRESENTATION EVENINGS: Law in a Digital Age

As a core component of their law degree, all Flinders Law students undertake an exciting new topic, LLAW3301 Law in a Digital Age, where they learn to write legal software applications designed with an access to justice focus.

We collaborate with government and not-for-profit agencies to source real-world issues for our students to address.

At the end of each academic semester, students present the applications they have developed to their clients at formal Presentation Evenings.

This semester there are 14 student groups that have developed legal applications for nine clients.

Due to current social distancing requirements, Presentation Evenings this semester will be conducted online using Microsoft Teams on 9, 10 and 11 June from 5:30pm to 7:30pm.

You are invited to join us virtually for any one or more of these Evenings and see how legal technology can enable access to justice.

A list of our Industry Partners and the applications to be presented to them is in the table overleaf:

Feel free to distribute this invitation to anyone you feel may be interested in learning about how legal technology can improve access to justice.

If you have any queries or would like further information about the topic or how the software we use works, please do not hesitate to contact Mark Ferraretto.

We hope you can join us online for this exciting event celebrating the work our students have done to increase access to justice.
